WTDIA 2010

V Workshop on MSc Dissertation and PhD Thesis in Artificial Intelligence (WTDIA-2010)

WTDIA-2010 is a satellite event of the Joint Conference 2010, which will be held in FEI University Campus at São Bernardo do Campo, São Paulo, Brazil, in the last week of October.

WTDIA provides an opportunity for PhD and MSc students in Brazil to present their ongoing research with a panel of established researchers in Artificial Intelligence. The workshop has the following objectives:

- to provide a setting for mutual feedback on participants' current research and guidance on future research directions;
- to develop a supportive community of scholars and a spirit of collaborative research;
- to contribute to the conference goals through interaction of graduate students with other researchers as well as participation in conference events;
- to increase the visibility of ongoing work for the academic and industrial community.
